RVAClassic / Matt Sim

Founder. Builder. Creator.

The supplied classical bust, pixel grid, and circle become one consistent identity for the portfolio, services, and launch campaign.

Recognizable at a glance.

Primary

White and Terminal Mint on an obsidian circular backing.

Monochrome

One-color white artwork for restrained applications.

Mint

Single-ink accent version. Use on dark backgrounds.

Ink

Dark artwork for white and light neutral backgrounds.

Clear space and scale

Keep clear space of at least 12% of the mark width on every side. Use the full seal at 64px and above where possible. Small favicon exports are provided and should be checked in their real context.

Technical source

The bust mark is a genuine two-ink path trace of the supplied raster, with no embedded raster. Texture is simplified for scale. The original file remains in the full launch kit.

Terminal Mint. Quiet foundations.

Use mint with purpose

Mint marks the next action, the result, or the final word. Use broad neutral space, one strong message, and a restrained grid. White is the light-page background; obsidian anchors dark graphics.

Readable combinations

Use obsidian text on Terminal Mint. On white, use darker mint ink #08735C for small links and text. White body text belongs on obsidian or graphite, not the mint seed.

Strong display. Human reading.

Saira / display

Good work. Made visible.

Bold 700-800. Tight line-height around 1.05. Sentence case for stories; short uppercase statements for campaign graphics.

Use fewer words before shrinking the type.

Space Grotesk / body and UI

I build cool products, sell great services, and create content that converts.

Regular 400-500 for reading. Semibold 600 for buttons and labels. A clear offer is more useful than a wall of claims.

Both fonts are bundled under the SIL Open Font License. Preserve license files when redistributing fonts.

Web starting scale
H1: 48-80px / H2: 36-52px / body: 16-20px / labels: 12-14px.

1080px social starting scale
Headline: 78-146px / body: 29-40px / labels: 22-26px / margins: 64-80px.

Show the work. Make the offer clear.

Direct

Name the product, the deliverable, and the next step. Keep the writing specific and easy to scan.

Grounded

Link finished work. Keep waitlist, accounts, prize pools, and personal earnings separate. Paid placements are identified.

Personal

Use first-person founder language. Sound like someone who made the work and can explain what comes next.

Do

- Keep the mark proportional and give it space.
- Use grids, pixel blocks, stars, and execution stripes as supporting elements.
- Use real screenshots and real work photography.

Avoid

- Do not recolor the mark outside these supplied variants.
- Do not put small mint text on white.
- Do not invent testimonials, client results, or urgency.
- Do not imply third-party logos endorse this identity.

Thirty days. Ninety finished assets.
